This programme is permanently closed

The Saskatchewan Immigrant Nominee Program (SINP) Entrepreneur Category no longer exists. Saskatchewan's official wording is that, effective 27 March 2025, the SINP permanently closed all Entrepreneur and Farm immigration pathways — no new applications are accepted, no new expressions of interest are considered, and no further invitations to apply are issued.

This was a permanent closure, not a pause.

Why it closed

In October 2024 the federal government halved Provincial Nominee Program allocations for 2025, from 110,000 to 55,000. Saskatchewan's share fell to 3,625 nominations — its lowest since 2009. The province responded by permanently closing its entrepreneur and farm pathways, saying so explicitly in its news release of 27 March 2025.

PNP allocations were partly restored for 2026, to 91,500 nationally. Saskatchewan has not reopened these pathways, and described the closure as permanent rather than a pause.

What it required, for reference

These figures are historical: investment of CAD $200,000–$300,000, verified net worth of CAD $500,000, and the creation of at least two full-time jobs for Canadian citizens or permanent residents.

Routes into Canada that are still open

Canada has not closed down — the money-based federal routes closed, while the skills and provincial routes grew. For 2026 the federal government raised Provincial Nominee Program admissions to 91,500 (up from 55,000 in 2025) and held total permanent residence at 380,000.

Provincial business streams still accepting applications:

- British Columbia — Entrepreneur Immigration, Base stream — from CAD $200,000
- British Columbia — Entrepreneur Immigration, Regional stream — from CAD $100,000
- Prince Edward Island — Work Permit Stream — from CAD $150,000
- Newfoundland & Labrador — International Entrepreneur — from CAD $200,000

- Alberta — Self-Employed Farmer Stream — net worth and farm equity of CAD $500,000; very limited 2026 allocation
- Yukon — Business Nominee Program — from CAD $300,000

- Provincial Nominee Program
- Global Talent Stream — two-week work permit processing

Saskatchewan Immigrant Nominee Program

Due to the constant flow of immigrants in Saskatchewan, the economy and population of this Canadian prairie province has been flourishing. Each year, Saskatchewan welcomes around 14000 to 16000 immigrants.

The SINP, or the Saskatchewan Immigrant Nominee Program, was designed to help the Saskatchewan Provincial Government nominate interested individuals who intend to obtain or partner in a business in Saskatchewan. It is one of the primary immigration programs of Saskatchewan.

The Saskatchewan Investment Immigration Program requires to be actively involved in managing that business while residing in Saskatchewan.

The program enables the provincial Government to attract Canada Permanent Resident applications from non-Canadians planning to settle in Saskatchewan. It also helps them put forward the applications of successful applicants for Canada PR to the Federal Government.

Saskatchewan Business Investment Immigration Visa

- The Saskatchewan investment visa program requires the applicant to submit his Expression of Interest (EOI) through the Saskatchewan portal.
- After the EOI has been scrutinized, the Saskatchewan authorities will send you an invitation asking you to submit your application for nomination.
- Once your application has been taken care of, you will be eligible to apply for a Temporary Work Permit (TWP), which would be needed for you to conduct your operations there.

What is SINP Program?

The Saskatchewan Immigrant Nominee Program (SINP) is a major part of the Saskatchewan Provincial Nominee Program (PNP), designed to attract skilled workers, entrepreneurs, and individuals with work experience in the province.

Under various categories such as the International Skilled Worker, Saskatchewan Experience, and Entrepreneur streams, the program addresses the unique economic and labour market needs of Saskatchewan.

The assessment process is based on factors like education, work experience, language proficiency, and in case of entrepreneurs, business acumen. By participating in the SINP, individuals can open up their path to Canadian PR while actively contributing to the economic growth and diversity of Saskatchewan.

- The applicant must maintain the business' staffing complement (the number of Canadian or permanent resident workers) in place if purchasing an existing business in Saskatoon or Regina.
- Applicants must stay in Saskatchewan with their dependent family members.
- Successful applicants must sign a business performance agreement with the Government of Saskatchewan, provided by the SINP after the application is approved.

No. Saskatchewan permanently closed it on 27 March 2025, along with the International Graduate Entrepreneur and Farm Owner/Operator categories.

Is it paused or closed for good?

Why did Saskatchewan close it?

The federal government halved Provincial Nominee Program allocations for 2025. Saskatchewan's share fell to 3,625 nominations, its lowest since 2009, so it closed its lowest-volume streams.

Saskatchewan continues to process applications it had already accepted.

Which prairie or western routes are still open?

British Columbia's Entrepreneur Immigration Base and Regional streams and Manitoba's Business Investor Stream are open. Alberta's Self-Employed Farmer Stream is also open, with a very limited 2026 allocation.
