Overview

Share capital of €50,000 in a small Latvian company, or €100,000 in a larger one, plus a €10,000 state fee, qualifies you for a Latvian residence permit.

This is now the only Latvian investment residence route. The new Immigration Law, in force 15 September 2026, abolished the real estate and bank subordinated-liabilities routes. The permit it grants runs two years, reduced from five.

One thing to settle before you start

These are residency programmes, not citizenship. That distinction matters more for an Indian passport holder than for most, because India does not permit dual citizenship: under Section 9(1) of the Citizenship Act 1955, voluntarily acquiring another citizenship ends your Indian citizenship automatically.

Holding European residency does not affect your Indian citizenship at all. Only naturalising would. So the residence permit is the safe part; the decision point comes years later, if and when you choose to naturalise.

Key benefits

- Entry from €50,000 share capital in a small Latvian company (€100,000 for a larger one), plus a €10,000 state fee.
- Temporary residence permit issued for 2 years under the Immigration Law in force from 15 September 2026.
- Visa-free travel within the Schengen Area while the permit is valid — Latvia is a Schengen member.
- Family inclusion: spouse and dependent children under 18.

Requirements

- Applicant $\geq$ 18 years old.
- Clean criminal record required.
- Third-country national (non-EU) status required.
- Legally married spouse may be included; dependent children under 18 may be included.
- Share capital of at least €50,000 in a small Latvian company, or €100,000 in a larger company or group with subsidiaries, plus the €10,000 state fee.

- Satisfactory source-of-funds documentation and due diligence.

When this route may not fit

- Conviction for serious criminal offences.
- Adverse immigration history (fraud or prior deportation).
- Incomplete or falsified financial documentation.
- Funds derived from illicit activities.

Questions clients ask

What is the minimum investment for the business route?

€50,000 of share capital in a small Latvian company, or €100,000 in a larger company or group with subsidiaries, plus a €10,000 state fee.

Who can be included in my application?

Legally married spouse and dependent children under 18 may be included.

How long is the residence permit valid?

Two years under the new Immigration Law in force from 15 September 2026, reduced from five. Plan for renewal accordingly.

Can this lead to Latvian citizenship?

Naturalisation requires 5 years' residence, a Latvian language exam, exams on the national anthem, history, culture and constitution, and evidence of legal income. Latvia permits dual citizenship only with EU, EFTA and NATO states, Australia, New Zealand and Brazil; India is not among them, and India does not permit dual citizenship either.

Are there strict source-of-funds checks?

Yes. Full due diligence and documentary proof of legitimate funds are mandatory.

Important notes

- Latvia's new Immigration Law, in force 15 September 2026, abolished the real estate and bank subordinated-liabilities routes. This company route is what remains.
- The residence permit now runs 2 years, reduced from 5. Budget for renewals sooner than older material suggests.
- A €10,000 state fee applies on top of the share capital.
- The €150,000 alternative investment fund route in the new law is not yet usable — the fund has not been established.
- PMLP's own investment pages are still dated April 2022 and describe abolished routes. Work from the new law.

Compliance

- Share capital of €50,000 in a small Latvian company, or €100,000 in a larger one.
- A state fee of €10,000 applies.
- Residence permit duration: 2 years under the new Immigration Law, in force 15 September 2026.
- Latvia is a Schengen member. Naturalisation requires 5 years' residence, Latvian language and civics exams, and evidence of legal income.
